AEA President-Elect Addresses Student Group

Norman Cousins To Lecture At Jacksonville March 28th

One of the country's most outstanding editors is scheduled to deliver a lecture here on March 28—Norman Cousins, editor of The Saturday Review. Mr. Cousins is not only an editor of a widely-circulated journal, but he is a world traveler and an interpreter and analyst of history-in-the-making.

Since he became editor of The Saturday Review in 1939, he has been to every corner of the globe. He has made nine trips to the Far East since the end of World War II; he represented not only the Saturday Review but the National Broadcasting Company and the American Broadcasting Company at such events as the Egypt-Israel crisis in 1956-57; the Asian-African Conference in Indonesia in 1955; the East-West crisis in Germany in 1953; the Korean War in 1951. Another trip in 1951 was under the sponsorship of the U. S. Government, during which time he lectured in universities and public forums in India, Pakistan, Ceylon, and Japan on the subject of America's relationships to the rest of the world.

In 1959 Mr. Cousins visited and lectured in the Soviet Union under the American-Soviet cultural exchange program, and he was exchange lecturer in Japan under the auspices of the American-Japanese Institute for Cultural Exchange.

In 1958-59 he traveled to Poland to arrange for the visit to America of some 38 Polish women, victims of Nazi medical experimentation. He acted as

Sigma Tau Delta To Hear Miles

At their regular meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 9, at 7:30 p.m., in the Little Auditorium, members of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, and other English students and faculty will hear the guest speaker, Mr. Lawrence R. Miles, deliver selected "Readings from Literature."

In addition to being the Director of Admissions and Registrar of the college, Mr. Miles is also a very fluent and interpretive reader of all types of literature. Many college literature classes and other groups have greatly enjoyed hearing him in the past.

All English majors and minors are cordially invited and urged to attend this meeting.

SGA Meeting Is Interesting

The regular meeting of the Student Government Association was held Tuesday, Feb. 2. At this meeting many varied subjects were discussed.

Two new SGA members, W. E. Connell, Logan Hall representative, and Tommy Dennis, freshman class social chairman, were recognized.

It was announced that plans are now underway for another Talent Show to be held Feb. 25.

It has been suggested that the library be kept open on Sunday afternoons from 1 to 5 o'clock in keeping with the fact that the standards of this school have been raised and more studying is now being done. A survey will be made to get an approximation of the number of students who will make use of this service if it can be made available.

A self-study is to be made of the Student Government Association. A committee was appointed to begin this study, which will last approximately three or four years.

The constitution of the Circle K Club was presented and accepted by the SGA. Their first project will be to place containers about the campus for the

The Masque and Wig will hold auditions for parts in their coming play on Monday, Feb. 8, from 3 to 5 p. m., in the Little Auditorium. All are invited to try out.

Mrs. Philip Currier Speaks To Club

Mrs. Philip H. Currier (Marion Coffee) was guest speaker for the Leone Cole Home Economics Club on Tuesday night when the February meeting was held in the foods lab on the college campus. Wanda Roberts, Auburn, the president, presided and introduced Mrs. Currier, who is a graduate of the college.

The speaker told the students some of her experiences during the three years she and her family spent in England and on the continent of Europe. She

Science Fair Is Scheduled For JSC Campus March 25

In preparation for the Northeast Regional Science Fair, about 90 high school students and sponsors from this region assembled on the campus of Jacksonville State College on Jan. 23. They met with Reuben Boozer, coordinator, and Dr. Harold Strickland, regional counselor, to plan the fair, which will be held here on March 25-26. It is sponsored by the Alabama Academy of Science.

Regional officers were elected as follows:

Howard Cockerham, Sylacauga High School, president; Harold Brooks, B. B. Comer, Sylacauga, vice-president; June Pentecost, Alexandria High School, secretary; and Shirley Burgess, Alexandria High School, treasurer.

An executive committee was organized, an agenda set up, and general aspects of the fair were discussed. The students will set up their exhibits on March 25 and the two best will receive expense-paid trips to the National Science Fair—International in Indianapolis, Ind., on May 11-14.

In Indianapolis the two best exhibits in pharmacy will receive awards — the top winner will receive an all-expense paid trip to the 1960 meeting of the American Pharmaceutical Association where his project will be displayed. Both will be presented plaques. There will also be other awards at the national meeting.

Schools represented at the meeting here from the nine counties in this region and their sponsors are as follows:

Alexandria, Mrs. Audie Jo Browder, Woodson D. Wallace; Anniston, Charles J. Cater; B. B. Comer, Sylacauga, Mrs. Reginald D. Carlton; Cedar

Hi-Y Group Meets Here

By Wallace Johnson

Jacksonville State College was host to the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs of District II on Saturday, Jan. 30. High school students from all parts of North Alabama gathered here to make preliminary plans for the Youth Legislature to be held in Montgomery in March. On that occasion the students will run the state for a day.

Little Snow of Anniston began the day's program after which all the delegates were welcomed by Dr. Houston Cole. Later in the morning the Rev. T. M. Carroll, pastor of the First Christian Church of Gadsden, spoke on "Youth Government and Christian Citizenship." Mr. George Hawkins, a former state representative who was a candidate for governor in the last election also spoke to the group

Mrs. Charles Vines of Bessemer, president-elect of the Alabama Education Association, was guest speaker for a meeting of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary fraternity, at Jacksonville State College Tuesday night.

Shirley Pike of Heflin, president of the chapter, presided and introduced President Houston Cole, who presented Mrs. Vines. He pointed out that Mrs. Vines, who is guidance director at Bessemer High School and a member of the staff of ETV, was elected to the AEA post without opposition by the statewide membership.

Mrs. Vines gave an inspirational talk, telling the students that "Tis the set of the sail and not the gale that decides which way the boat will go." She recommended three prerequisites for attaining the maximum in happiness and success: wisdom, which includes knowledge; work, and faith in God. She closed her talk by telling the Van Dyke story of "The Lost Word."

Present at the meeting in addition to members of the fraternity were faculty members from the education division, student teachers, and administrative personnel.

Miss Lucille Branscomb, faculty sponsor of the fraternity, was introduced, and she called attention to the high standards required for membership in Kappa Delta Pi.

Dr. and Mrs. Cole had an informal reception at their home after the program when members of the faculty called to meet Mrs. Vines and her husband, who is principal of Hueytown High School.

BSU Announces Annual Banquet

The annual Baptist Student Union "Sweetheart Banquet" will be held Feb. 12, at 7:00 p.m. in the student wing of the First Baptist Church. The theme of the banquet will be "When the Sweet Magnolias Blossom" carrying out the traditional Valentine decorations in a Southern plantation setting. Entertainment for the occasion will be various "Dixie and Confederate" numbers performed by "Magnolia Maidens" and "Confederate Characters."

The occasion is semiformal. The admission for the banquet is $1.00 per ticket and tickets are on sale by members of the Baptist Student Union.

Want A Friend...?

It's really no wonder at all that freshmen and transfer students coming to Jacksonville for the first time seem to "find a home" here so quickly—the secret is friendliness. Many students come here, as most of us did, with that shaky, uncertain feeling, thinking that they'd be better off at home. But after a few hours of getting acquainted, this feeling somehow miraculously fades away, and anticipation becomes the master of antipathy.

The credit for this, of course, cannot be given to just a few of the Old Timers here, but to the great majority. It seems that when anyone needs help, all he has to do is ask the first person he meets and he has it. This evidences the complete absence of snobs on campus these days. Perhaps if there were ever any here, they became disgusted by the mass friendliness and left.

If you're ever just walking around with nothing to do, you might just prove all this to yourself—just walk up to someone you don't know and say, "Hi! My name is" And before you know it, you'll have a new friend.

Attitude Of Intent

We have read somewhere in some rules of safety the following sentence: "Never point a gun at anything you don't intend to shoot." This is basic to a whole series of parallel precautions essentially summarized in this single short sentence: "Don't start what you shouldn't do." It applies to habits, to projects and promises, to attitudes and obligations, to every threat, to every temptation, and to every intention.

The assumption that we can go a little in the wrong way, that we can sin a little, lie a little, break the law a little; that we can be a little unfaithful, a little dishonest; or that we can start many things and stop them any time we want, whenever and wherever we want to without involvement, without hurt or harm, without falsely encouraging others, without being misunderstood, without the danger of going farther than we intended, is a false and unsafe assumption. Those who find themselves in serious or embarrassing situations frequently say they didn't intend to do what they did. And often it is true that they didn't intend to go so far.

But what is often also true is that they did entertain the idea, or they did take the first step; they did make the problem possible. Like the man who points the gun, they assumed the attitude of intent. Starting is so often easier than stopping. Habits are so often easier to acquire than they are to set aside. Relationships are often easier to begin than to break off. And we save ourselves much embarrassment, much explanation, much heartache, much danger, much tragedy if we simply don't start what we shouldn't do.

No one should flaunt any convention, or invite any flirtation, or tempt any temptation, or begin a habit he wouldn't permanently want to have, or begin any relationship of life that would be unsafe or unsavory or unwise to follow through. There is some scripture on the subject which says, "Abstain from all appearance of evil." This also could be cited: "For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he."

This all points up to the attitude of intent. Don't threaten to do anything you shouldn't follow through on. Even would we say: Don't think to do anything you shouldn't do. Avoid not only the appearance of evil, but all invitation to it. In short, avoid the very attitude of intent. If you shouldn't do something, just don't do it.

New Books

(Editor's note: The following is a partial listing of the new books to be found in the college library.)

Hester W. Chapman — The Last Tudor King. Born to despotism and reared in splendor, the "boy king," Edward VI, has never been so sympathetically and vividly presented as in this detailed portrait.

Sterling Guide to Summer Jobs. This guide advises undergraduate students as to the best ways of obtaining summer and part-time employment, including Christmas and week-end jobs. It includes traveling jobs, unusual occupations, jobs at good pay, and jobs with a future.

Haakon Chevalier—The Man Who Would Be God. Behind the headlines made by national security investigations lie the turbulent lives of the men who ask the questions . . . and those who must answer. The author probes beneath the accusations and smears, the tangle of lies, evasions, and half-truths, to lay bare the minds and hearts of the men who shape our future.

Roger Bellows — Creative Leadership. A new approach to creative leadership reveals sound techniques for guiding individual energies toward effective group action.

Louise Cowan — The Fugitive Group. This book is the first factual and authoritative study of the formative years of the fugitive group, the major figures of the Southern literary renaissance including Allen Tate, Robert Penn Warren, and John Crowe Ransom.

Robert V. Remini — Martin Van Buren and the Making of the Democratic Party. This book reveals the conscious effort made by Van Buren, through a network of alliances, to construct the Democratic Party. It is in part a biography of Van Buren for the years 1821-28, and in part a political history of the nation and of New York for the same years.

James Bryant Conant — The Child, the Parent, and the State. One of America's foremost educators discusses the nation's most urgent problem of public education.

Religious Event Set For March 1-2

Plans are being made for Religious Emphasis on March 1-2 with Dr. Edwin Kimbrough as the speaker. Further details will be given in the next issue of the Collegian.

Dr. Kimbrough, former pastor of the First Methodist Church in Anniston, is district superintendent of the Birmingham District.

He is regarded as one of the leading ministers in the state and is considered to be especially effective with young people.

Heflin Girl, Baseball Player Share Collegian's Spotlight

This week's spotlight is on two students with outstanding scholastic records. They are Shirley Arnold Pike and Waymond "Hank" O'Neal.

Shirley graduated from Cleburne County High School in Heflin, Ala., and now lives here in Jacksonville with her husband, Jim, who is also a J'ville student, and their six-year-old son, Steve.

Among the clubs and activities Shirley participated in at her high school were the Beta Club, the Thespians, the Debating Team, and the Band. She was also on the annual and paper staffs.

Shirley first came to Jacksonville in the fall of 1955; she from Cedartown High School in Cedartown, Ga. He was active in sports, especially baseball, and was a member of the Beta Club in high school.

After high school graduation, Hank served Uncle Sam in the Air Force for four years, then played professional baseball with the Washington Senators for three years. During the fall and winter months of these three years, he attended the University of Georgia.

Hank came to Jax State in the summer of 1958 and since that time he has made many friends and an excellent record. He received his B. S. degree in January with a major in physical education and a minor in economics. Hank is now attending graduate school here at Jacksonville.

Hank is counselor in Logan Hall, president of Kappa Phi Kappa, men's professional education fraternity, and a member of the Social Science Club.

At shortstop, Hank contributed greatly to the success of Coach Lovrich's baseball team last year. He also participated in intramural football and basketball.

After finishing graduate school, Hank plans to coach, teach, and do work in guidance and counseling.

Both of these students, Shirley and Hank, are credits to the prestige of Jacksonville State College.

SHIRLEY ARNOLD PIKE

dropped out after two years and came back again in the summer of '58.

Shirley has many honors to her credit. She is president of our highest-standing honorary society, Kappa Delta Pi, and state secretary of Phi Beta Lambda. Shirley is also a member of Sigma Tau Delta and Kappa Delta Epsilon, and was elected to Who's Who this year. She works in the registrar's office.

After her graduation in May, Shirley plans to enter graduate school in the summer, but she will teach next fall. Shirley is majoring in business education and minoring in English.

Methodist Survey Group Visits Students On Campus

A survey team composed of Dr. Harvey C. Brown of the General Board of Education; the Rev. Robert L. Johnson, director of Wesley Foundation at the University of North Carolina; and the Rev. Hugh Barber of Birmingham spent Thursday and Friday on the Jacksonville State College campus in the interest of Methodist student work.

This team and one visiting the Alabama-West Florida Conference have been on the campuses of eight Alabama institutions of higher learning where Methodist students have organizations. They are completing a study that will be reported at the General Conference of the Methodist Church in Denver, Colo., in April.

Members of the team met with President Houston Cole and other members of his administrative staff to determine what is being done, present resources, and needs for expanded enrollments which are expected in all colleges. They have visited 125 colleges and universities during the study. They also conferred with the Rev. Eugene Atkins, pastor of the local Methodist Church.

Members of the Wesley Foundation were hosts at a dinner on Thursday night at which time they discussed the student activities with the team.

When I became twenty-one years of age, I was shocked to see how much he had learned in seven years.

Kappa Phi Kappa Holds Meeting

Members of Kappa Phi Kappa, men's professional education fraternity, held their last meeting of the fall semester on January 13 in room 217 of Bibb Graves Hall. Waymond O'Neal, newly-elected president of the fraternity, conducted a short business session during which preliminary plans were made for awarding a scholarship to a high school senior boy to be selected by the fraternity. The members hope that the scholarship, though small, will enable some deserving young man to enter the field of professional education at Jacksonville.

During the remainder of the meeting, candidates were considered for the office of secretary. Harvey Shelton was elected to fill this post, which was vacated by Carl Bain, a January graduate.

Other officers elected at a previous meeting are: Waymond O'Neal, president; Louis Bonner, vice-president; Don Morton, treasurer; and James Holmes, reporter. Dr. Reuben Self is the fraternity's faculty advisor.

JSC Baptist Student Union Holds Mid-Winter Retreat

Baptist students at Jacksonville State College held a mid-winter retreat at the First Baptist Church on Saturday, Jan. 30, to make plans for the spring semester, which began last week.

The morning and afternoon sessions were opened with devotionals by Tom Camp of Smyrna, Ga. Gerald Patterson of Lipscomb was elected president of a "Greater Council"; Ben Jones, Collinsville, stewardship chairman; and Evelyn Nelson, Newell, secretary. Len Roten, BSU, secretary, and Charles McCain, Roanoke, assisted the students with the program.

Committee chairmen directing the planning were: Crawford Nelson, Heflin, promotion; Shelby Chandler, Selma, enlistment; Mary Maude Clark, Jacksonville, social; Evelyn Nelson, Newell, records; Jim Wilson, Jacksonville, Bill Vaughn, Homer, Ga., publicity; Ben Jones, Collinsville, stewardship; Mary Davenport, East Gadsden, missions; Tom Camp, Smyrna, Ga., music; Glenda Maynor, Dutton, devotional.

Some of the outstanding events planned for the spring include the "Sweetheart Banquet," Feb. 12; YWA Focus Week, Feb. 15-21; Student Missions Conference, Feb. 26-27; election and installation of BSU officers, March 7-8; annual spring banquet, March 25; revival with Dr. James Cox, Louisville, Ky., as speaker, March 27-31; Easter Sunrise Service; state student retreat, Shooco Springs, April 29-30.

Members of the executive council of the BSU, in addition to those mentioned above, are:

Betty Sue Williams, Hartselle; Virginia Nethery, Warrior; Ira Dean Harris, Anniston; Donald McMillan, Brent; Philip Heron, Patsy Spraggins, Attalla; and Margaret Eason, Goodwater.

Miss Mary Moss Goggans is faculty adviser.

HI-Y

This writer spoke with numerous delegates on Saturday morning. Some of the students who took an active part were Jane Gilliland, Curtis Nolan, Marie Curry, all of Susan Moore High School in Blount County; Arthur Patterson, George Sutton, Richard Waller, B. F. Hales and Terry Akridge, West End High School delegates from Birmingham.

No convention is complete without an election. There were candidates running from a number of high schools. Those elected were: Bobby Edwards, West End High School, gubernatorial candidate; Larry Cotney, Gadsden, Clerk of the House; Charlotte Ligon, Gadsden, Secretary of the Senate; John Lamkin, Birmingham, floor leader. These students will compete against those from other sections of the state for the honor of holding these offices during the Youth Legislature.

Some may think these youth legislatures are useless, but the records show that the non-accumulative poll tax now in force in Alabama was suggested by the Youth Legislature, and other laws were made at their suggestion.

Spirit Remains Intact After Streak Goes To Four In Row

By HAL HAYES

An epidemic of consecutive losses has collared the Jacksonville State basketball Gamecocks and extended their winless skid to four games. Through Tuesday night's (Feb. 2) JSC-Howard duel the seasonal banner of the local quintet is 7-7.

Those institutions claiming victories over "Our Gang" include Howard, Troy, Livingston, and Athens.

Jacksonville rose to the sensational 24-point outburst by Center Earl Cleland to trigger past Athens (Jan. 15) 65-52 for their 7th win of the year.

Captain Gerald Dupree, with 12, ended the double-figure Jax State scoring for the night.

Then the bad slump began.

After leading by only seven at halftime, Athens (Jan. 23) rebounded magnificently in the final "20" to carry off a 63-38 triumph. The score at halftime was 28-21.

With eight points apiece, Lefty Bollinger and Earl Cleland led the scoring for the Gamecocks. Ronnie Talley had seven as the second high point-maker for the lads from Solomon's Hill.

A rebounded tip-in sent the Gamecocks down in defeat for their second time in succession and fifth time of the year against Livingston, at York (Jan. 29).

Sub-guard Bob Carter, with two seconds remaining in overtime, tipped in a Corbin Scott set shot just as the buzzer sounded. The result was a thrilling, and hard earned, 55-53 decision for Coach Jack Jones' forces.

The score at the end of the regulation game was 50-44.

Jump shot artist Earl Cleland headed the scoring cast of the night by cashing through 18 points. Wayne Ray was next high with eight.

Troy State was next to bolt past the Gamecocks via a 58-42 verdict. This contest was played in Troy.

Earl Cleland again was the

Bollinger Dropped From Jax Squad

Coach Tom Roberson of Jacksonville State announced Wednesday (Feb. 3) that Lester (Lefty) Bollinger has been officially dropped from the Gamecocks' basketball team. Bollinger, it is assumed, has dropped out of school to go to work.

Coach Roberson stated that Bollinger, former Jacksonville High all-time great, is a great loss to the squad. He was the team's leading rebounder, ace defensive player and third high scorer.

leading marksman for the 'Cocks. This time the towering 6-5 junior center accounted for 10 points. Wayne Ray had seven and Harold Bobo and Gerald Dupree each sacked six.

The score at halftime stood 25-18, Troy with the commanding lead.

Howard College of Birmingham made the JSC card 7-7 for the season Tuesday night (Feb. 2) when they tripped the Gamecocks, 78-67. The loss was the fourth straight for the locals.

The high man, pointwise, for the losers was Wayne "Rook" Ray, who bucketed 22. The 6-3 freshman star from Anniston had 13 of Jacksonville's 24 when the first half came to an end.

With eight baskets from the floor and three from the charity lane, Captain Gerald Dupree was second high for Jax State with 19.

Howard held a 33-24 lead at halftime.

End Near For Court Season

At the end of the present week, basketball heads into hibernation, and baseball, tennis, and spring training football compete for the spotlight among Jacksonville State's major sporting activities. Friday night will be the end for the Coach Tom Roberson-coached hardwooders.

Igniting the final week of cage competition will be tonight's JSC-Berry College, Rome, Ga., entanglement which has a starting time of 7:30. This will be the second meeting between the two clubs, Jax State claiming a 71-48 decision in the seasonal opener.

Tuesday night, "Duck" Hodges—"Blue Goose" Inc., will transport the team to Athens, Tenn., for their final road trip of the season. In Athens, Coach Buddy Cate's racehorse Tennessee Wesleyan congregation will supply the opposition.

Wesleyan claimed a 73-65 win earlier in the campaign.

Friday night will ring down the curtain. Livingston, with Bob Carter, visits here at 7:30.

Thus, another basketball season will have come and passed. It will also end the outstanding Jacksonville careers of team Captain Gerald Dupree, Huntsville, and Elba's Charles "Leo" Clark. Both are the lone seniors on the squad.

Prejudices are rarely overcome by argument; not being founded on reason they cannot be destroyed by logic.

At its March 1 inaugural, the JSC spring training football festival should have all the ingredients, save gunplay, of a super-duper Hatfield-McCoy feud. Somebody's dental crockery will really get jarred!

Presently there are eight gaps in the front-line armor of the Gamecocks. Those not to be present when the first roll is called for drills include: Ted Boozer, Jim Glasgow, Grover Whaley, E. G. Taylor, '59's Most Outstanding Lineman Roy Fulmer, Harold Shankles, Wayne Keahey, Outstanding Back of '59, and Most Valuable Player Bill Nichols.

Actually, though, as Coach Don Salls assures, all eleven positions are wide open for grabs. All a body has to do is prove himself qualified to man the stern and maintain it. Spring training, therefore, will most definitely offer quite a test of stamina and power.

So you see, with eleven '60 "homes" up for fight, a most interesting spring training period awaits Gamecockland, one which possesses earmarks of one of the finest JSC has experienced in several years.

And while we're discussing football...

New faces that will be seen during spring training belong to: 280-lb. Terry McCullough, former Pell City High and Mississippi Southern standout; speedster Jerry Anderson of Woodland; quarterback hopeful Junior Burt of Fort Payne, and Alexandria's Pete Cook. Yep, Cook's the same Pete Cook who manned a starting end post for the University of Alabama in 1953 and '54.

Papa Tie completes his 18-game cycle for the basketball Jaxmen Friday night. At approximately nine bells that infant February eve, it'll all be over.

Berry College, Rome, Ga., visits here tonight in the first of three contests of this final week. A road trip, to Tennessee Wesleyan, Athens, Tenn., is in store Tuesday night.

Livingston comes here in the season's finale Friday night.

Hodges To Direct Intramural Sports

Though not related to Walt Disney's famed animated character, Donald "Duck" Hodges, Roanoke, has been named student intramural sports director of JSC. This announcement was made Feb. 1, by intramural director, Coach H. L. Stevenson.

It was also disclosed that Leeds' Charles Myers was appointed assistant to Hodges.

The selection of Hodges to this post was made by the Intramural Sports Lab class 422. The junior Physical Education major is a member of this class.

According to Coach Stevenson, Hodges' duties will be assisting him in fulfilling the drive to make Jacksonville's intramural program one of the finest in the state. He will be general commissioner of all intramural sports activities.—Hayes.

Cleland Leads Gamecocks By Amassing 183 Points

Big Earl Cleland, jump shot artist extraordinary, reigns supreme in the Jacksonville State Gamecocks' seasonal scoring column. This was disclosed today when figures compiled through Tuesday (Feb. 2) night's Howard scrap were released.

The former Sand Rock High star has thrown 183 tallies through the nets to head his nearest competitor by 29 points. Gerald Dupree, Huntsville senior who captains the JSC crew, has 154.

Cleland, who stands 6-5 and is a junior, is averaging an even 13 points per game. Dupree is hitting at an 11-per-night clip.

Lefty Bollinger, no longer in school, had 102 points for third place honors.

James Watson, Springville soph, has 92 and Wayne "Rook" Ray, a prize grab from Anniston High, has reaped 80. Gadsden's Bill Bowen ends the high double-figure scoring for the Gamecocks with 76.

In compiling a 7-7 season the Gamecocks have threaded 822 points for the season, while the opposition has chunked in 826.

Jacksonville is averaging 58.7 points per game.

Another star should be added to Cleland's name. This should signify his leadership in the rebounding department.

Averaging eight rebounds per game, Cleland has pulled down a total of 114 through the front 14 of the Gamecocks' 18-game season. In shooting percentages he ranks second behind senior Charles Clark of Elba. Clark has a 62.3 percent shooting mark.

Age Catches 'Big Charlie'

Age caught up with Jacksonville State athlete Charles Clark. And in doing so, it might possibly have prevented him from being admitted to either West Point, Annapolis, or the Air Force Academy.

In a November 18th dated letter from Lt. Col. A. C. Harris, Jr., of Marion Institute, Clark was informed that as an honor graduate of that South Alabama school he would be eligible to compete in the entrance examinations at each of the military academies.

The letter stated: "In general, a candidate must be a citizen of the United States, he must have never been married, must be of good moral character, and must not have reached his 22nd birthday." And that last requirement, about age, is what eliminated Big Charlie.

The hustling 185-lb. senior, football fullback and basketball forward, had just turned the corner of his 22nd year when he received the letter. Thus, he was ineligible.
